WEDDED AFTER NINE YEARS.

Oscar Gibbs, Former Washington Lawyer, Marries Oregon Girl.

Oscar Gibbs, of Prince George County, Md., son of William H. Gibbs, of the Indian Bureau, and Miss Goldie Jane Cameron, also of Prince George, daughter of Mrs. Agnes L. B. Cameron, were married in Lakeview, Ore., on January 10, friends here learned yesterday.

Gibbs, a graduate of Strayer's Business College and the National Law School, was secretary to the director of the Experimental Farm at College Park, special agent of the General Land Office in New Mexico and later a lawyer in this city before he went to Lakeview a year ago.

In Lakeview Gibbs met with such success that he succeeded in persuading Miss Cameron to consent to wed him. They had been engaged nine years. Miss Cameron left Washington with her brother William, but they were delayed in Reno, Nev., by storms for ten days. Gibbs now is State's attorney for Lakeview County, Ore.

FORMER LEGISLATOR ON TRIAL.

William Willett, Jr., One-time Representative Charged with Bribery.

New York, Jan. 20.—Former Representative William Willett, Jr., of Brooklyn, today was placed on trial charged with bribery in connection with his candidacy for a Supreme Court judgeship in 1911. James W. Osborne, special graft investigator for Gov. Glynn, is attorney for Willett. The case is said to be without precedent in this State and new questions of law will
